ESG FUND RATING

The environmental, social and governance (ESG) fund ratings are based on the exposure of the underlying assets held to industry-specific ESG risks and the ability to manage those risks relative to peers.

FUND OBJECTIVE

The fund aims to offer investors an ethical investment that provides steady, long-term capital growth, as well as a moderate level of income via a portfolio that diversifies across asset classes and regional exposure. The Shari'ah Supervisory Board oversees adherence to the applicable Shari'ah principles. This fund specifically adheres to the standards of the Accounting and Auditing Organisation for Islamic Financial Institutions (AAOIFI) as interpreted by the Shari'ah Supervisory Board.

WHO IS THIS FUND FOR?

This fund is suited to investors wanting moderate to high long-term growth from their Shari'ah compliant investment, with less volatility in the short term than pure equity. It is suitable as a stand-alone retirement investment.

NON-PERMISSIBLE INCOME

Incidental income deemed to be non-permissible is paid to the charitable trust elected by the Shari'ah Supervisory Board in line with the principles of Shari'ah and the supplemental deed of the fund. Non-permissible income does not form part of the investor's income.

INVESTMENT MANDATE

The fund is a Shari'ah compliant asset allocation fund that offers investors access to local and international asset classes including equity, liquid assets and non-equity securities, such as sukuks (Islamic bonds) and equity conduits. It may also invest in the portfolios of other unit trusts, both locally and those registered in countries with acceptable regulatory environments. This fund may invest up to 30% (with an additional 10% for African ex-SA investments) of its portfolio offshore.

REGULATION 28 COMPLIANCE

The fund complies with retirement fund legislation. It is therefore suitable as a stand-alone fund in retirement products where Regulation 28 compliance is specifically required.

FUND COMMENTARY

Global equities fell in September, against the backdrop of higher bond yields, a weakening Chinese property market, and global supply chain issues. Japan was the best performing region on strong earnings expectations, while all other regions weakened. China weighed on Asia and most commodities. In September, higher oil prices supported the global energy sector and high bond yields helped banks, while tech underperformed. Volatility returned in September, with the S&P 500 posting its worst month in the post-Covid bull market (-4.7%). Two commodity sectors, energy and materials, had a very different September, while quality lagged despite volatility.

The FTSE JSE All Share Index shed 3.14% for the month and 0.84% for the quarter. Resources and industrials fell 3.8% and 5.3% respectively, whilst financials gained 12.7% for the quarter.

The resources sector was impacted significantly in September, due to concerns about the impact of the Evergrande debt crisis on commodity demand from China. The best performing sectors for the quarter were pharmaceuticals (65%, driven by Aspen), auto parts (36%) and chemicals (29%, mainly Sasol).

The local equity sleeve outperformed the JSE All Share Index and contributed the most to the Balanced Fund's performance for the Quarter. Nevertheless, this component was impacted negatively due to our exposure to resources (precious metals). The fund's holdings in platinum and gold were performance detractors for the period. We remain positive on the longer-term outlook for platinum. Considering gold at current valuations, our holding in AngloGold provides a highly attractive dollar cash flow yield, together with a measure of protection against systemic risks and inflation. We held no exposure to Aspen or Sasol, which were not approved for investment due to high debt levels at both companies. The fund's exposure to iron ore via African Rainbow Minerals and Afrimat also detracted from performance. In contrast, our holdings in auto parts (Metair) and chemicals were performance contributors, together with MTN, Netcare, Alviva and Raubex.

Whilst we couldn't hold any Sasol, the fund had exposure to global energy companies Royal Dutch Shell and EOG Resources, and locally to AECI, Bowler Metcalf and Omnia. Global equity and cash returns were neutral relative to the benchmark for the quarter. Within our global equity component, the semiconductor and materials exposure detracted from performance, whilst Novo Nordisk (pharmaceuticals), Autozone (auto parts and servicing) and Fortinet (cybersecurity) were major performance contributors.

During the quarter, we initiated a position in Prosur, Europe's largest tech company and major shareholder in Tencent. Driven by investors' concerns around Chinese regulation, the share price has declined materially, providing long-term investors with an attractive entry point into one of the highest quality secular growth companies in the world. Excluding the listed and unlisted investments, the core Tencent business trades at approximately 15x forward PE (price-earnings). Ultimately, the opportunity on offer is to accept near-term uncertainty in exchange for longer-term growth. We believe that once the regulatory news flow slows down, the cash flows of the business will once again start to drive the share price.

From an asset allocation perspective, 22% of the fund is invested in very high quality global companies via the Old Mutual Global Islamic Equity Fund, 36% in local equity, 17% in the Old Mutual Albaraka Income Fund and the balance is invested in Islamic term deposits.

TER is a historic measure of the impact the deduction of management and operating costs has on a fund's value. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER, which includes the annual service fee, may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TERs. Transaction Cost (TC) is a necessary cost in administering the fund and impacts fund returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of fund, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.
